Oakton Wins BRW Client Choice Awards

Oakton, one of Australia's leading Consulting and I.T. Services companies, has won two awards - the Best Professional Services Firm (Revenue $20m - $200m) and the Best IT Services Firm in the BRW Client Choice Awards 2008.

The awards were announced at a gala dinner in Sydney last night.

The BRW Client Choice Awards are the most prestigious awards for professional service firms in Australia. This is because they are determined by the views of the people who matter most: clients.

"We greatly appreciate the basis for these awards, given that they represent the opinions of our clients, and the high esteem in which they hold our people and our company," said Oakton's Chief Executive Officer, Neil Wilson.

"I'd like to thank the many clients who contributed to this award, and we will strive to maintain this status for many years to come," said Mr Wilson.

Oakton's Chief Operating Officer, Steve Parker adds "Over 200 of our clients from across Australia were surveyed as part of the awards process. This kind of positive feedback, which has led to this award, is a great testimony to the excellent relationships we have built with our clients over the years.

"We are delighted to be recognised as both the Best Professional Services Firm in Australia and the Best IT Services Firm," said Mr Parker.

Oakton provides I.T. services to help business plan, deliver and operate their business systems, as well as business consulting, financial management and assurance services. For nearly 20 years, Oakton has consistently enabled some of Australia's largest organisations to meet their technology and business needs with a flexible, cost-effective, results-driven approach to service delivery.

With a national coverage and over 1200 staff and an offshore operation in Hyderabad (India), Oakton provides services across a range of industry sectors including state and federal government.
